Bay Day Dedication:
Haskin Shellfish Research Laboratory
In honor of the institution's long standing contributions to science, the Delaware Bay Oyster Industry and, especially in recent years under the leadership of Director David Bushek, their support and involvement in urgent community initiatives. HSRL has played a leadership role in helping this underserved region grapple with thorny issues and advocate for its 'fair share', its economic base and for the future of its maritime industries. This year in particular, we thank Dr. Bushek and the team at Rutgers HSRL for the work they've done to help the region respond to the issues presented and exacerbated by Super-storm Sandy. The legacy of community relevant science initiated by Julius Nelson, in 1888, continued by Thurlow Nelson, expanded by Harold 'Doc' Haskin, Richard Lutt and Eric Powell persists today and is MUCH appreciated by the bayshore community.
